

David Kaawa-Mafigiri, PhD is a Senior Lecturer in the Department of Social Work and Social Administration at Makerere University with experience supervising MA and PhD students. He is a Co-Investigator on several projects such as: an NIH supported project to examine ethical and social issues in informed consent processes in African genomic research (PI: Mwaka), the Netherlands government-sponsored training and research collaborative program in the social sciences and applied public health at Makerere University. He is also the Executive Director of the Center for Social Science Research on AIDS (CeSSRA), and a long-time Principal Investigator in the Uganda-CWRU Research Collaboration (UCRC). He serves as a mentor on the Mak-BSSR program.